

Celebrating Fremont's 50th: Fremont and its Railroads, 1862–2006

Three railroads were built through Washington Township in 1865, 1877, and 1905.

Established by different companies, today they are all part of the Union Pacific Railroad.

Join us for a delightful presentation on the history of local railroads and their vital role in the growth and development of our city by Randy Hees, manager of the Patterson House Museum at Ardenwood Historic Farm, and curator for the Society for the Preservation of Carter Railroad Resources.
